

3 rd September - CHAS Accreditation

At DrainOLOGY we have always upheld the very highest standards with regards to Health & Safety, the safety of our customers and our employees being paramount. It is as a result of this commitment to excellent health & safety practice that DrainOLOGY have become an accredited member of CHAS, the 'Contractors Health & Safety Assessment Scheme'. To qualify we had to meet rigorous Health & Safety requirements, ensuring our customers can deal with us with supreme confidence, knowing both our office-based staff and site engineers comply with a wide range of health and safety criteria.
