

March 2006 - One of only two contractors approved by D.C.C to act as an intermediary when processing Street Works Licences

Drainology is proud to announce that it is one of only two contractors to be approved by Devon County Council as an intermediary between the licensee (i.e. the owner of the drain) and Devon County Council when processing a Street Works Licence.

The Street Works licence is required when work needs to be carried out in a public highway, road or footpath. As many drains run under these public areas, being able to apply for one of these licences easily is very advantageous.

Drainology hold all the necessary insurances and staff qualifications to work in public highways and always indemnify the licensee against any defects, loss or damage caused by faulty workmanship. This includes during the execution of the works and for the full guarantee period as specified by the Specification for the Reinstatement of Openings in Highways, June 2002; thus placing the customer at ease.
