

March 2008 - Re-accreditation to Constructionline

DrainoLOGY are pleased to announce that for the third year running they have been accredited by 'Constructionline', the UK's register of pre-qualified construction services. To gain accreditation they have had to meet strict pre-qualification requirements agreed by industry working groups, meaning that customers are able to deal with DrainoLOGY with supreme confidence. Similarly the rigorousness of the checks completed by Constructionline ensures that potential customers are largely able to bypass any pre-tender selection checks they may have, saving organisations a considerable amount of time and money.